THE WORK IN THIS DECK

Every frame AI generated. None real photographed.

No studio booking, no casting call, no location scout, no reshoot.
Only your product and idea, and we build the campaign around it.

Three kinds of work, one standard

Product & brand films

Branding aware and product specific video ad, cut for social, retail screens and paid media.

Campaign stills

Hero images and full supporting sets, covering every mood, market and season you sell into.

Lookbooks & catalogue

A consistent cast across an entire range, built from the catalogue images you already own.

The campaign, without the shoot.

01	A fraction of a traditional shoot cost	Your budget goes into ideas and craft instead of day rates, rentals and logistics.
02	No studio, models or crew to book	No calendars to align, no usage rights to renegotiate, no weather to lose a day to.
03	Any market, season or location on demand	Summer in November. A different city for each market. A new season without a new production.

SECTION TWO

How we work

01
Briefing

02
Creative Direction

03
AI Development

04
Content Generation

05
Refinement

06
Delivery

Understand the brand, then find the idea.

01
Briefing

We start by defining the creative direction, objectives, deliverables and visual requirements. We align on the brand, target audience, references, products, formats and key expectations before moving into production.

02
Creative Direction

We develop the visual concept and establish the creative direction for the project. This includes mood, composition, styling, environments, lighting, camera language and overall visual storytelling.

Build the cast, then build the campaign.

03
AI Development

We build and prepare the elements required for production — including AI models, environments, products, characters, styling and other visual assets. Each element is developed and refined to match the approved creative direction.

04
Content Generation

Once the visual system is approved, we move into production. Images and video sequences are generated, tested and refined to achieve consistency across the campaign while maintaining the intended art direction and product accuracy.

Finish to standard, then hand it over.

05
Refinement

The selected outputs go through detailed post-production and final refinement. This may include compositing, retouching, colour adjustments, image cleanup, motion refinement and other finishing work required for the final result.

06
Delivery

Once the final assets are approved, we prepare and deliver the agreed files in the required formats and specifications, ready for use across the intended channels.

Feedback & Approvals

Feedback and revisions are included throughout the process. Each stage is reviewed and approved before we move to the next one, keeping the production focused and efficient.

Once a stage has been approved, changes to previously approved elements may require additional production. For example, changing the model at the final stage may require the campaign to be regenerated from an earlier stage and will therefore be quoted separately.

We never change the product.

Everything around the product is generated. The product itself is held to the reference you send us.

Held to reference

Silhouette and cut. Print and pattern. Colour and gradient. Hardware, trims and logo placement.

Generated

Cast, models, styling, location, light, weather, season, camera and grade.

DEPENDING ON YOUR NEEDS

Let's start with a pilot.

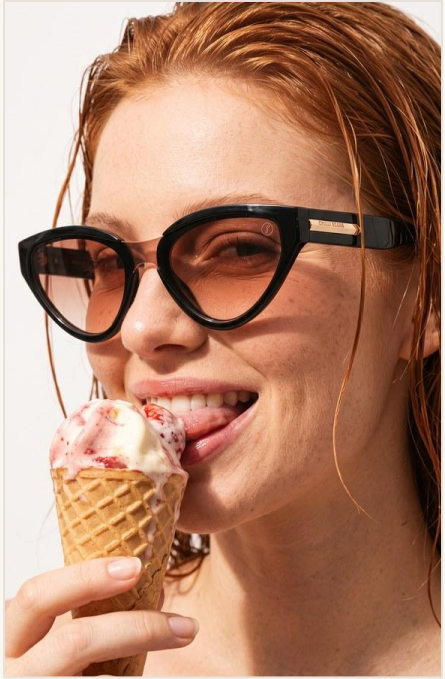

Pick a single SKU. We will run it through the whole process so you can judge the work on your own brand rather than on our cases.

01 Send one product and your idea (if you have one)
Existing photography or packaging artwork, plus your brand guidelines. Nothing new needs shooting.

02 We come back with directions
Some concepts written and boarded, for you to choose from before we generate anything.

03 We produce the chosen one
We deliver a finished still, edited and graded..

04 You decide what happens next
If it works, we scale it across the range. And send you the full size pictures.

LET'S MAKE SOMETHING BEAUTIFUL

DARIA

daria.vdr@gmail.com

Send us your product image. We will come back with a direction and if it lands, the finished campaign.

WHAT WE NEED

Product photography or artwork, your brand guidelines, and where it needs to run.

WHAT YOU GET BACK

Concepts first, then a finished film or stills set in any ratio you want.

HOW WE WORK

A small studio. You talk to the person making the work, start to finish.
